

The 2022 SDCCU OC Running Festival

Make your Miles Matter Charity Partner Program

Race weekend dates: April 30 & May 1, 2022

Let's get back to fundraising!

We are excited to bring back in-person events for this Spring and we can't wait to help your charity raise money to fund your mission!

Of course, it is our goal to bring back returning partners and accept new organizations to make sure this is the most successful year yet with regards to fundraising. The Make Your Miles Matter Charity Partner Program is designed to support charities in fundraising by utilizing our events as a platform to raise money for their charitable work in our communities.

Benefits and Requirements

Charity Benefits

- Be willing to promote the Make Your Miles Charity Program through social media channels and email blasts to your audience.
- Must submit a post race report to the SDCCU OC Marathon detailing the total funds raised and runners recruited.

Charity Runner Rules/Requirements

- All individuals fundraising for a charity campaign that are registered for ANY event in the SDCCU OC Running Festival will count towards the Make Your Miles Charity Program requirement for runners.
- The SDCCU OC Running Festival operates on a tier-based pricing system in which race entry fees increase as the event date approaches. If charities are using discount codes, the discount given to the charity organization will be applied to the current entry fee schedule. Charity runners are encouraged to sign up earlier to get a lower entry fee and to leave adequate time for fundraising.
- The SDCCU OC Running Festival does not refund or defer any race entries. Charity runners commit to fundraise and participate in their chosen event at the time of processing. If a charity runner needs to switch events or transfer an existing race entry to a new participant, the individual(s) are required to follow the procedures provided to the general public.
